

SPECIAL INVITATION FROM YUAN TZE

Dear Ren Xue family,

In basic terms, clarity and wisdom are the ability to see reality clearly. In other words, to see things for what they are - totality. What we see forms the base for our views, thoughts, judgments, decisions, and actions, which will be askew when they are not based in clarity and wisdom. This is where problems begin.

REN XUE life cultivation is a process of gaining clarity and growing wisdom. An important way to achieve this is by dealing with confusion and questions, which inevitably arise when we work on life. At retreats I always spare a substantial amount of time to answer students' questions because confusion and questions often stop us from moving forward.

This upcoming retreat will be dedicated to Q&A. By answering your questions, I aim to help you:

- 1) Move through the specific issues you get stuck on
- 2) Gain more clarity on the whole picture of life and reality
- 3) Develop the ability to clear confusion and find answers for yourself

Let's look at number three in more detail. An important aspect of the Q&A activity is the role of heart and Shen (True Self). To my best ability, when answering your questions, I connect with the wisdom of the universe and deliver it to you with my heart and Shen. This process is a great opportunity for you to engage your own heart and Shen and connect with the wisdom transmitted. It is also a way to train your heart and Shen to become more unified, so you are better able to tune in with the universal wisdom.

In the weeks to come, you will be given more details about how to send your questions before and during the retreat. I will do my best to answer as many questions as possible. This may involve combining questions of similar nature or stringing relevant themes together to cover as much as possible in the time the retreat allows.

I look forward to working and growing together, in this old and new way.

-Yuan Tze
